DB SCHENKERland Includes land transport by vehicle and rail throughout Europe.

DB SCHENKERland is domestic and international land transport by vehicle and rail. Our services include amongst others local distribution, traffic arrangements between warehouses, terminals and consignees as well as traffic between production companies and warehouses. DB Schenker has a complete network throughout Europe. Customers can through transport plans find and trace their shipments via tracking and mySchenker.

Groupage

Freight of goods below 2,5 tons. Groupage is produced via terminals and contain parcels and smaller shipments which can be co-loaded with other goods.

Company parcels

Company parcels are shipments between companies or from companies to private individuals. Parcels can be delivered to tradesmen, farming and private addresses. It is also possible to arrange delivery in the evening.

DB Schenker offers the customers private delivery of shipments, for instance to private addresses or to their work both day and evening. The recipient receives an SMS message when the goods are loaded on the distribution vehicle. The customers are both businesses and online stores in general when it comes to smaller shipments.

Express

When things are urgent we can offer services for extra rapid transport. In most cases businesses in Norway will receive their goods the next day.

Trade solutions

Depending on the industry and the types of products we offer various trade solutions. This includes several industries, such as electronic equipment, household appliances, medicines, wines and spirits, food, fishing, shipping, automobile, etc. Solutions developed in line with market needs.

Privpak

Schenker Privpak distributes parcels to private individuals in Norway via distribution places all over the country. The distribution places can be local grocery shops. Users are individuals who buy on the internet or through mail order. Schenker Privpak offers a complete solution for trading companies far afield.

Direct distribution

Direct distribution between sender and receiver is an alternative to their own transport. It ensures safety for the customer that the goods are being delivered intact and on time. We use dedicated vehicles and experienced drivers.

Thermo

DB SCHENKERthermo includes temperature regulated goods both domestic and international. All products requiring temperature regulated transport can be covered by this system. Examples of this being seafood, fruit, vegetables, flowers, plants, medicines, etc. DB Schenker has their own quality system for these kinds of transports, which are adapted to public regulations and where the temperature and position are monitored by GPS.

Dangerous goods

DB Schenker has competence in order to deal with special goods, amongst others dangerous goods. The services are being followed up by our own certified counsellors.
